

The Day the Crayons Quit by Drew Daywalt.

You have read this book in class and already produced some writing using it as inspiration. Read the book again and then have a go at the tasks set. Enjoy!

Imagine you are Duncan:

---

- How do you feel reading all these letters from your crayons?
- What can you do to help them?
- Write a reply to your crayons - either one letter to all of the crayons or chose a colour that you think you would like to do a reply to.
